A hand-drawn map of the Port Arthur area. The map shows a central rectangular area with a 'Gravel road' running vertically and an 'Asphalt road' running horizontally. To the left of the gravel road is a 'Dry river bed' and a 'Field'. To the right of the gravel road are 'Houses'. A 'Gravel road' also branches off to the left from the main gravel road. A 'Large Hill' is marked on the left side, and another 'Large Hill' is marked on the right side. A 'SEA' label is at the bottom. Distances are marked: '1 km' between the horizontal roads and '2 km' between the horizontal roads. A compass rose indicates North (N) and South (S). The map is labeled 'New town, Port Arthur' and 'Old town, Port Arthur'.
